

Wrangle In Westerly's British Club

Steward Chapman Sues for $1,000 Back Salary—Death of Samuel Hearn, Expert Drummer—Auto Aids in Horse Thief's Capture—Policeman Mitchell on Duty—Mandeville Hall Still in Jail.

The dissension that has existed in the Westerly British club for some time has reached a climax, and some points in connection therewith are likely to be aired in the courts. Monday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Eugene W. Coon attended the rooms of the club in the Potter-Langworthy block, which included the furniture and all other property, and also the bank account of the club with the Industrial Trust company.

The suit is brought by Charles D. Chapman, vice president and steward of the club, and is to recover salary due as steward. The amount demanded is $1,000 and the writ is returnable to the superior court for Washington county Aug. 21.

Writs were served upon Frederick Holworth, treasurer of the club, and also upon the main office of the Industrial Trust company in Providence.

The Westerly British club was organized by Dr. Percy A. Senior nearly three years ago, with quarters in the new Murphy building; and, as its name indicates, it was intended as a strictly British club and a branch of the national organization, and as such was chartered by the state of Rhode Island. In time there came a change in membership and methods, and the founder of the local club withdrew. The club became a social organization, increasing in membership and that distinct change in quarters, the nationality line was obliterated, and the club became British in name only.

From outside observation the club was orderly and well managed and it was noted that men of prominence in Westerly and Stonington made occasional visits to the club, presumably for social purposes. Still there were surface indications that harmony did not exist among the members and that distinct factions were endeavoring to get possession of the affairs of the club. As a result this legal action is brought and may result in ending the social life of the Westerly British club.

Samuel Hearn, for forty years a resident of Ashaway, where he was employed in the mills, died Sunday afternoon after a long illness. Mr. Hearn's father was a drummer in the regular army, and he, too, when a young man, entered the army as a drummer and became an expert.

After his service in the army he located in Ashaway and has played in the Ashaway, Westerly, and other bands in the state, and always acted as drummer for John A. Logan post of Ashaway, of which he was a member.

Mr. Hearn was in his 65th year and known as a long time resident of Ashaway. He leaves a widow, three sons and two daughters.

Sheriff John Wilcox of Washington county made a quick capture of a horse thief Sunday night. Dr. George C. Soule of Wickford left his horse and buggy in front of the Methodist church at 8 o'clock Sunday evening and soon thereafter the outfit had disappeared. Word was telephoned Sheriff Wilcox and by 8 o'clock he had not only recovered the missing horse and carriage but had William Caswell, who drove away with the horse, in Kingston jail. The sheriff's auto was pressed into service and aided materially in the quick arrest.

U. S. ATTORNEY GENERAL WRITES TO WALL STREET FIRM "Too Late to Attempt to Recast Corporation Tax Amendment Bill."

Washington, July 26.—Attorney General Wickard's reply to a "too late attempt to recast the corporation tax amendment bill" on the basis of a proposition, the bare statement of which would be received with very great incredulity by most minds. He so expressed himself in a letter written in reply to one from a number of firms of accountants in New York who made a new suggestion to him.

In his letter, addressed to Deloitte, Plender, Griffiths & Co., of Wall street, the attorney general says: "In your last letter you set forth in somewhat more detail the following proposition: 'That no system of accounting can give even approximately actual paid within the year out of income in the maintenance and operation of its business and properties.'"

Mr. Wickard says he is certainly

A New Baby.

A New Baby! What magic, what mystery, what charm these words have for us. Yet, how infinitely more they mean to the mother. A new life; short, to be sure, but full of possibilities. Some one must be patient, hopeful, watchful, proud and never discouraged. That "some one" is the mother. She has heard her baby's first cry, and whether it be her first or tenth, the feeling is the same. Her feeble arms are outstretched; those arms that will never desert it as long as the mother shall live. And that hand which supports the head of the new-born babe, the mother's hand, supports the civilization of the world.

Is it any wonder, we ask you, mothers, that with all these responsibilities resting upon your all too weak shoulders, we urge upon you the necessity of selecting the babe's medicine with utmost care; the necessity of protecting your babe from worthless, unknown and narcotic drugs as you would protect it from the fire?
